

InBetween

October 8 – December 20, 2019

Opening Reception: October 8, 5:30PM

The present moment is all we ever know. It is the vital space in between what we have been and where we could be heading. It is always right there, our opportunity for change.

This exhibition will feature the work of six artists, all of whom employ various strategies to consider what it means to live in international, mixed communities and how their roots inspire, influence and inform their work. With generosity and openness of mind they lay bare the truths we often rather forget, and engage the viewer in conversation which shifts the existing paradigms.

Participating artists: Tara Sabharwal, Barbara Beisinghoff, Alicia Henry, Éloïse Plamondon-Pagé, Golnar Adili, and Anne-Marie Lavigne.
